About the National Student Leadership Conference

Since 1989, thousands of outstanding high school students have attended the NSLC to explore today’s most exciting careers, develop essential leadership skills, and experience life on a college campus.

The NSLC Medicine Intensive Program is an 18-day conference providing talented high school students from around the world with the skills necessary to provide high-quality patient-centered health care, gain insight into the careers available within healthcare, and gain hands-on experience with the kinds of challenges that come with a career in medicine.

We are looking for enthusiastic, hard-working individuals who enjoy working with high school students and have experience in the clinical field, research field, teaching or advising experience, and/or public health & policy.

Check out our website and a sample schedule (website | schedule)

As a Medicine Intensive Team Advisor, you will:

- Lead small group discussions and debriefings
- Teach academic sessions, both lecture based, and clinical skills based
- Assist administrative staff and leadership facilitators with program
- Serve as a chaperone during off-campus trips and evening social activities
- Reside in the dormitory on the same floors as students, serving as a Resident Advisor

Team Advisors guide students through their NSLC experience. Each TA is responsible for a small group of 12-16 students. TAs generally work either half or whole summers.

Qualifications:

- TAs are generally current college sophomores – seniors. Current freshmen are generally considered for our Assistant Team Advisor (ATA) position
- Applicants should be familiar will all program-specific information posted on this site
- NSLC has a primary focus on leadership development. Applicants should have leadership experience and/or training
- Our programs include TA-led sessions that require appropriate educational backgrounds and work/volunteer/intern experience

Compensation: In addition to room, board and travel, TAs receive a stipend at the end of each session. For more information, visit www.nslcleaders.org/jobs. Applications are now being accepted.
